

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Laundry Conveniences.

An ironing table ought to be high enough for the ironer to bend her elbows at right angles and work without stooping. In reckoning the height allow for a thick mat or excelsior cushion under foot. It is a great economist of strength and back aches. Pick out sound deal, free of knots or warping, and see that the drawer works easily. To turn the table properly take first a soft, coarse, all wool blanket, fold it by a warp thread, lay the fold upon a long edge of the table and make very smooth; then trim all round save at the fold exactly as it lies, first making sure that the under side is as free of wrinkles as the upper one. Cut a four inch square of stout muslin for each corner, double the square to triangles and sew them fast. Their use is to slip over the corners of the table, thus holding the blanket in place. When the blanket is washed, take off the squares and remove the muslin. The squares, made of the upper side of the blanket, will round, hem the edges narrowly and miter three of the corners, sewing them fast; then in the double work a couple of eyelets either side and lace a tape through them. By tying this tape tight after slipping the mitered corners over the table corners all need of a pin is done away with and a firm, smooth, unrinkled surface assured.

Cover skirt and sleeve boards the same way—first the double woolen cloth sewed firmly on, then with removable muslin slips, hemmed at the small ends and laced over the large ends. Fit and upper covers well, so either used. A bosom board is a necessity in shirts. It should be made of a strong material, such as rubber, and be of a size to fit the bosom of the shirt. It should be held in place by a strap or straps, and be of a shape to fit the bosom of the shirt. A Rack For Toast. Instead of piling toast on a plate, why not use a toast rack? These very convenient articles are not necessarily expensive, and they add immeasurably to the good appearance of the tables upon which they appear. The illustration shows a very simple pattern of toast rack which holds the toast upright, the pieces not touching.

Poultry Once a Week. Poultry should be used about once a week on the average. This will insure, as a rule, some leftovers for an extra meal or at least an entrée. Boiling chickens or fowls, as they are technically called, are the most economical. There are ways of cooking, stewing and sautéing by which these are made almost as nourishing as when broiled or roasted. These fowls are often as low in price as 12 cents a pound and seldom higher than 14. Roasting chickens are the next in price, ranging from 10 to 20 cents a pound. Those for broiling are much more expensive and are so small that they are usually sold by the pair. They are not at all economical, for, since they are very small, a number are needed for a family of any size. These broilers are everywhere considered a great delicacy—Mary Graham in Woman's Home Companion.

Fish In Oil. Sardines, anchovies and all fish pickled in oil should always be carefully cleaned from all trace of the preserving oil and are usually served boned and filleted and garnished with capers, minced parsley and a sprinkling of good, fresh lemon juice to cleanse the palate. The fish should be removed from the oil, and the oil should be separated from the fish. The fish should be removed from the oil, and the oil should be separated from the fish. Cottage Lamp Shades. According to plans muslin in any of the delicate colors makes a pretty lamp shade mounted upon cardboard and tied around at the top with a satin ribbon. This is especially suitable for the summer cottage. Allen Halverson of West Prairie, Wis., says: "People come ten miles to buy Foley's Kidney Cure," while J. A. Spero of Helmer, Ind., says: "It is the medical wonder of the age."—Clarke & Kenney.

JACK CHINN IS TEETOTAL.

Not a Drink For Three Months—Never Again—To Oblige His Wife.

The Hon. John P. Chinn, otherwise known as Jack Chinn, at one time a member of the Goebel state central committee for the Eighth congress district of Kentucky, arrived at the Hoffman House the other night, says the New York Sun. Colonel Chinn is of bowie knife fame, a turfman, race horse starter and Silver Democratic politician. Colonel Chinn always stops at the Hoffman House when he is in town. When Goebel was shot in Frankfort, he fell into the arms of Jack Chinn, who was walking by his side.

Colonel Chinn deprecated at the time the use of a bullet. He had frequently given expression to the opinion that except under extraordinary circumstances where attack or defense was necessary he would not use a gun or a pistol as the weapon of a coward and that a knife is the true emblem of a gentlemanly combatant. He has the shoulders of an ox. He is one of the most picturesque products of Kentucky life and one of the best known characters on the American turf. He carries a stick on which are 14 notches, described as representing the fate of enemies he has met with.

Colonel Chinn was asked by his friends to drink the other night, and they all congregated at the bar.

"Settler," said Colonel Chinn when his time came to acknowledge the hospitality, and, while all the eyes were turned to him, he told this little story, which he said there was no objection to print: "All the trouble I ever had in my life came from whiskey. In my early days I started with beer, and at various stages of the game I tried gin, rum, and then I went on to brandy and whiskey, and sometimes it would take a week or two to straighten your humble servant out. Three months ago a little lady down in Kentucky (my wife, if you please, gentlemen) suggested that I had had about all the fun that was in this life, and she asked me not to drink any more. I have regarded her wishes ever since, and I shall never take another drink as long as I am alive. Let all the boys have all the fun they can get out of whiskey. There's nothing in it." There wasn't a man in the crowd who insisted upon his taking anything more than seltzer water.

NEW INDUSTRIAL TOWN.

Indiana Harbor Name of the New Frick Steel Center.

Indiana Harbor is to be the name of a new industrial town on the shore of Lake Michigan just north of East Chicago, says the New York Times. It is to be built and developed as rapidly as the wealthy men back of it can press the work. The Lake Michigan Land company, the Calumet Canal and Improvement company and H. C. Frick, formerly of the Carnegie steel industries, are the principal investors. Their plans have been held in abeyance for several years in an effort they made to get the state of Indiana to build a canal to connect the Calumet river and lake.

Mr. Frick bought 300 acres of land fronting on the lake three years ago. At that time he was having his disagreement with Mr. Carnegie which led to his retirement from the company. The Inland Steel Company has 50 acres on the line of the proposed canal and promises to build there a steel plant to cost $1,500,000, of which amount $1,000,000 is to be spent this year. The Lake Shore road has agreed to build a passenger station at the Harbor to cost $15,000. The Lake Michigan company has 1,300 acres and the Calumet company 5,000 acres of land. Roads are being laid out on all drainage systems are being put in, and waterworks and electric light plants come next. Four hundred houses for workmen are included in the plans. All of the eastern trunk lines pass through this territory. The Belt line is convenient, and in addition to excellent freight facilities it is promised there will be a passenger service in only 45 minutes from downtown Chicago to the new town.

NOVEL WOMEN'S CLUB.

Gossips and Users of Slang Words Fined at Maytown.

Maytown, near Lancaster, Pa., has a novel organization of women, says the Philadelphia Press. It is called the Iris circle, and its members are all married. Any member of the club who goes to a dance 25 cents. If she uses slang, it costs 25 cents. If she is late at a meeting, she is fined. At every meeting the hostess must provide a lunch to include three certain dishes. If they are missing, a fine is imposed. The fines collected are placed in the treasury, and when there is a sufficient sum a banquet is given the husbands of the members.

Kansas Wheat For France. The enormous wheat crop in Kansas and Oklahoma is bringing grain buyers of foreign countries to Kansas, says a Topeka dispatch to the New York Sun. Alon and Jean Goldschmidt, importers of Paris, came recently to negotiate for shipments. They declare that there is little promise of a big wheat crop in France this year, and France always turns to the United States when her own crop is short. Kansas wheat is famous in France for good food. It is the product of Russia seed, but the wheat of Russia does not compare with the Kansas product. The French importers will arrange for shipping by way of the Gulf of Mexico.

His Spelling System.

Dobbs met his friend Turner in the train. They were both going to Birmingham and stopped at the same hotel. Turner registered his name "E. K. Pathology." Dobbs, noting it, exclaimed, "Here, what are you using such a foreign, outlandish name for?"

"I am not assuming any foreign name," replied Turner. "What kind of a name is it, then?" "That is my identical old name, and it is English too—pronounced 'Turner'."

"I can't see how you make 'Turner' out of those 13 letters; besides, what is your object in spelling that way?" asked Dobbs.

"Well, you see, nobody ever noticed my name on the register when I wrote it 'Turner,' the latter explained, 'but since I commenced writing it 'Pathology' I set them all guessing. It is, as I said before, English spelling. 'Path' is the sound of 't' in 'pathetic,' 'olo' is the sound of 'l' in 'colonel,' 'gn' there is the 'n' in 'gnat,' 'yr' is the sound of 'r' in 'myrrh.' Now, if that doesn't spell 'Turner' what does it spell?"—London Standard.

Optimism. When the optimist was dispossessed and thrown, along with his household impediments, into the cold street, he chuckled furiously.

"Why do you laugh, my friend?" inquired a passerby.

"Because I have just now been emancipated from toil," replied the optimist. "For years my life has been one long struggle to keep the wolf from the door. But now that I have been deprived of the door I no longer am compelled to toil. Sweet, indeed, are the joys of adversity!"

Then the optimist walked off, whistling gaily, into the sunshine.—New York Sun.

A Task.

To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and to spend less, to make, upon the whole, a family happier by his presence, to renounce where that shall be necessary and to not be inhibited by capriciousness; above all, on the same grim conditions to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

The Oldest and Best.

S. S. S. is a combination of roots and herbs of great curative powers, and when taken into the circulation searches out and removes all manner of poisons from the blood, without the least shock or harm to the system. On the contrary, the general health begins to improve from the first dose, for S. S. S. is not only a blood purifier, but an excellent tonic, and strengthens and builds up the constitution while purging the blood of impurities. S. S. S. cures all diseases of a blood poison origin, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Herpes and similar troubles, and is an infallible cure and the only antidote for that most horrible disease, Contagious Blood Poison.

A record of nearly fifty years of successful cures is a record to be proud of. S. S. S. is more popular today than ever. It numbers its friends by the thousands. Our medical correspondence is larger than ever in the history of the medicine. Many write to thank us for the great good S. S. S. has done them, while others are seeking advice about their cases. All letters receive prompt and careful attention. Our physicians have made a life-long study of Blood and Skin Diseases, and better understand such cases than the ordinary practitioner who makes a specialty of no one disease.

We are doing great good to suffering humanity by our consulting department, and invite you to write us if you have any blood or skin trouble. We make no charge whatever for this service. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

The Revolution of 1848.

In March, 1848, I had to go over to Paris to finish up some work there and just came in for the revolution. From my windows I had a fine view of all that was going on. I well remember the pandemonium in the streets, the aspect of the savage mob, the vanishing of shots at quiet spectators, the hoisting of Louis Philippe's nankeen trousers on the flagstaff of the Tuilleries. When the battle began to come through my windows, I thought it time to be off while it was still possible. Then came the question how to get my box full of precious manuscripts, etc., belonging to the East India company, to the train.

The only railroad open was the line to Havre, which had been broken up close to the station, but further on was intact. In order to get there we had to climb three barricades. I offered my concierge 5 francs to carry my box, but his wife would not hear of his risking his life in the streets. Ten francs she would take. But at the sight of a lion's or she changed her mind, and with an "Allez, mon ami; allez, toujours," dispatched her husband on his perilous expedition.

Arrived in London, I went straight to the Prussian legation and was the first to give the news of Louis Philippe's flight from Paris. So even a poor scholar had to play his small part in the events that go to make up history.—Max Muller's Autobiography.

Only Satisfied.

Last summer two little girls in a College avenue family were repeatedly remonstrated with by their indulgent mother for playing bareheaded in the sun. "You will be burned so badly," said she to them finally, "that people will think you are black children." The girls, however, and she gave up trying to keep their hats on.
